

page 40

Columns and Departments

- 6 Letters
- 8 About Campus
Up close with Katie Couric, farm campus for a day, and wrestling with a new challenge
- 12 Discoveries
Clarity on obesity and stroke, how love makes a difference, and electrifying insights into cells
- 14 First Person
“Good-bye, Brother,” an essay by Rich Broderick

page 14

- 38 Gopher Sports
Golden graduates Christine Tan and Barrett Moen
- 40 Arts & Events
Peter Rothstein directs Triumph of Love on the Minnesota Centennial Showboat.
- 42 Off the Shelf
Daughters of the Witching Hill, by Mary Sharratt
- 44 Alumni Profile
Eric Hanson helps bring back Vermont's loons.

Association Pages

- 49 Alumni Association Angle
- 51 National President's Column

Features

- 16 Back from Autism
Many autistic children overcome their symptoms after undergoing a form of behavioral therapy taught to U of M psychology students. Joe Mohs, diagnosed with autism 23 years ago, says he is living proof that the therapy works.

BY MELEAH MAYNARD

page 16

Even breaks from therapy become part of the therapy. Amy Dawson (left) joins Lovaas Institute program director Kristy Oldham in intensive Applied Behavior Analysis for her son, Malcolm Dawson-Moore.

- 26 The Fungus Detective
Robert Blanchette goes to extremes to solve microscopic mysteries and help preserve historic treasures.
BY EMILY STONE
- 32 How to Win Friends
The winning entry in Minnesota magazine's 11th annual fiction contest
BY EMILY BECK COGBURN

Cover photograph by Mark Luinenburg. This page, clockwise from top: photograph by Ann Marsden, photograph by Mark Luinenburg, and illustration by Christopher Silas Neal